SOCIAL CREDIT NOMINATING CONVENTION

The Social Credit nominating convention held in Strathmore on Friday, February 16th, resulted in the nomination of I. M. McCune, George E. Bel, and F. Mueller as candidates. The group decided that three nominees were sufficient, and their selection excluded only one nominee.

Present at the meeting were: I. M. McCune, M. L. A. Gleichen, A. C. Mitchell, M. P. Medicine Hat, and C. E. Johnson, M. P. Bow River. Mr. Mitchell spoke briefly on the impressions of the members concerning Premier King's startlingly short session, and declared that King had sacrificed the interests of the Allied cause and a United Canada in order to protect the interests of the Liberal party in Canada.

The Social Credit party, he stated, had two platforms, the provincial and the New Democracy in the federal campaign. Both of these had taken immense amounts of time and energy to formulate, despite all statements to the contrary. Copies of these plans are being printed and distributed as quickly as possible, he said.

Following a motion to resume action carried by the recent changes in the boundaries of the constituency, and to zone the new territory added to it, Messrs Herman, Bulger, I. Bittie, and McCune were appointed a committee to look after this. Presenting the report of this committee, Mr. McCune said they recommended that the old zones be numbered to make 10 in all.

Mr. Johnson came forward to speak briefly on changes made in the Elections Act, dealing with the nomination of 275 to the effect that any elector whose name does not appear on the list may be sworn by the deputy returning officer with a witness whose name does appear on the list. This ruling applies only to rural polling divisions. He also brought to the attention of those present the fact that each enumerating officer is required to attend from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. on March 18th in order to correct any mistakes in the preliminary list posted by him.

The EDMONTON LETTER

By T. B. Windsor

Edmonton, Feb. 22.—The date of the election in March 21st—just five days before the federal vote. The date was set Friday night when Abernethy presented to Lieutenant-Governor Hon. J. C. Bowen for signature an order dissolving the legislature; the premier announced the dissolution; and the election a few minutes later in the legislative chamber.

In spite of war problems and the fact that the first session of the Alberta session there had been no special election for a year, the budget of about $25,000,000 was the largest the people of Alberta ever have been asked to pay. In spite of the fact that grave charges of carelessness and inefficiency in the handling of public funds had been made, the legislature session was the shortest regular session on record in Alberta. Less than a day was spent on the budget; it was pushed through at the rate of $50,000 every five minutes.

The brevity of the session did not prevent the members from taking their indemnities of $2,000 each during those seven days of sitting in the legislature.

According to reports from the secret sessions of the caucus, the Social Credit board of strategy wanted the members to accept just a part of that $2,000 because it was felt that voters might not like to see the members grab $24 a day each for rushing through their jobs. But, according to those reports, the members objected to losing any part of the full indemnity.

In its rush to close off the session, the government did not pause long enough to receive and table the report of the McGillivray royal commission which, under government orders, set for more than a year investigating the oil industry in Alberta. Close to $60,000 was spent by the government to that commission. It is shown by figures made public so far, and it is believed that costs to the companies involved were even more. Mr. Justice A. McGillivray's commission is now the entire situation thoroughly in the hands of its angles, getting a complete

Town Council

The first meeting for the year 1940 was held Monday night with Mayor Hughes presiding and all Councillors present.

The installation of the two new Councillors J. R. Gannon and Fred Spillman took place, also, with Mayor Hughes who returned after a year's absence from the Council.

All three were welcomed by the Mayor who expressed the hope that their deliberations together would be as harmonious as had been the meetings of the previous years.

Mr. Thos. E. Wright and Mr. T. L. Chamberlain, members of the School Board, waited on the Council with reference to some matters they wished to discuss.

A number of bills were passed for payment and regular routine matters were discussed.

STRATHMORE ICE CARNIVAL FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Strathmore's much heralded Ice Carnival and Queen coronation, became a reality last Friday night. The committee had worked very zealously with the result that there was a large number of attractive and intriguing costumes and the task of the judges was not an easy one, however general satisfaction seemed to prevail.

The judges were Mrs. Gilbert Patrick, Mrs. F. E. Wright and Mrs. C. F. Nicholl.

The crowning of the Queen was a dignified and imposing ceremony.

Her approach was heralded by Trumpeter Clayton Robinson.

All eyes were turned to watch the stately procession of Queen Eileen followed by her train bearers, Pages, and Ladies in Waiting. Mayor Hughes gallantly assisted her to her throne.

The "cultural refreshers" rang his bell frequently thereby strictly enforcing the rules of pro hockey, and penalties were handed out for offences.

Mr. Gilbert Patrick and Miss Maude Stewart of Calgary did some graceful waiting on their skates in their colorful costumes.

REVEE HARWOOD'S ADDRESS TO RATEPAYERS

It is my pleasure and privilege to be in the presence of ratepayers on the activities of your Council for 1939.

There was one change in the Council this past year due to the retirement of Mr. H. Groves from active duty. His place on the Council was taken by Mr. E. J. Jackson as Councillor for Division 3.

The Officers of the Municipal District were: L. C. Van Tighem as Secretary, Treasurer, W. Herbert A. Thompson & Co., Auditors, Dr. W. G. Gilson, Medical Health Officer, and P. Sidam as Weed Inspector.

The attendance at Council meetings as shown by the Annual Financial Statement shows three Council members attended all the meetings, Reeve Harwood and Councillors Nelson and Fawkes, Councillors Phillips 11, Cowell 10, Jackson 9 and Groves 2.

The finances of the District are relatively good as the same Mill Rate of 6.12 cents was in effect during 1939 and the only liability is the Secondary Highway No. 24. The machinery used for Road Grading and maintain purposes having all been paid in full.

The School situation was radically changed during the past year and the cost of the same was $1,200,000. The Division was in 1932 miles while in the Calgary Division it was 7.12. Sufficient funds are on hand to pay the first quarter requisition without the aid of borrowing from the Bank and this is a very satisfactory state of affairs.

Real work was continued on the same basis during 1939 as in the past years and 22 3/4 miles of High grade road were put up, while 1 1/2 miles were graded with black gravel. In addition 1.2 mile was made up of small fills were clayed and one big fill was put in with the aid of a scraper.

Mr. P. Sidam was appointed weed inspector for 1939 and he worked in close conjunction with the Government in endeavouring to devise ways of controlling Hoary Cress. Many patches were needed to Crested Wheat grass and we are looking forward with interest to note the results of this work. 76 miles of roadside were also needed down to control the weeds and in particular spots to be kept free of weeds and step by step spread of Hoary Cress.

The delegates to the Annual Municipal Convention were: Councillor Phillips and myself and while present matters pertaining to all phases of Municipal work were discussed we felt that the Co-operative Buying and the Survey of Municipal Government in Alberta were the things you would be most interested in and affected by. Only two minutes for Doug Malmberg to give a shot in an assist. From a plan for submitting to a full permit for purchasing of bridge and Cooke, later on, North bought heavy culvert lumber in carload, steel culverts gutter poles and stationary through the Association.

The Association makes 15 per cent and at least 3.

Drumheller still again early in the third, but were able to hold their lead for a few minutes when Bill Malmberg and Charlie played a nice bit of combination to trick each other. Crellin followed with another, quickly followed by a score from Bill Malmberg. As the game went on, the pace was maintained in the last few minutes. The game was one of the fastest, and most exciting Strathmore has had this season.

Though there were fewer risks competing than in previous years, yet the spirit and skill in all games was undiminished. There were five visiting risks competing from four different points, making a total of 12 risks. The winners were: Wagstaffe, Shrimpton, W. Gray, Oldham, Mackie, A. Gray, McGregor, Miller, Hughes, Watson, Miller, Swanson, Smith and Simpson.

Winners in the Deliveries Competition were McGregor, White and Swanson, in the Calgary Power draw, Swanson, W. Gray and Watson; in the Consolation, A. Gray, Shrimpton, Smith, and in the visitors Roppel from Miller.

HOCKEY

STRATHMORE VS. DRUMHELLER

The third of the playoff games wound up on Wednesday in favor of Strathmore, 5-3, in a body contact game that carried all kinds of excitement and thrills for the fans. Drumheller opened the scoring only three minutes into the game with a low and unseen shot from Currie. Though both sides tried play after play to bring the puck within scoring distance, neither team was able to score in the first period, a period that showed Drumheller in a better light than the home team.

Strathmore went to the mat right away in the second frame, and it took only two minutes for Doug Malmberg to give a shot in an assist. From a plan for submitting to a full permit for purchasing of bridge and Cooke, later on, North bought heavy culvert lumber in carload, steel culverts gutter poles and stationary through the Association.

The Association makes 15 per cent and at least 3.

 All that it learned and loved in the days long past.

To stop and warm our hands at the falter embers,
 Glad to have come to the long way's end at last.

Now to awake, and feel no regret at waking,
 Knowing the shadowy days are white again,
 To draw our curtains and watch the slow dawn breaking
 Silver and grey on English field and lane.

Now to fulfil our dreams, in woods and meadows
 Treading the well-worn paths, — to pause and cry
 "So, even so I remember it," — seeing the shadows
 Weaving on the distant hills their tapestry.

Now to rejoice in children and join their laughter,
 Tuning our hearts once more to the fairy strain.
 To hear our names on voices we love, and after
 Turn with a smile to sleep and our dreams again.

Then — with a newborn strength, to feel sweet rest over,
 Glad to follow the great white road once more,

To work with a song on our lips and the heart of a lover
 Building a city of peace on the wastes of war.

THE CHURCH IN THE COMMUNITY

From A Layman's Point of View

Have you ever watched a good old mothering her brood? If so, you must have noticed her pride in them, her anxious care for their welfare and heard her cheerful clucking as she scratched the soil for their food. Sometimes foreign eggs were set under and hatched ducklings or turkeys, but her devotion was just the same for the mother instinct was ever uppermost. Picture her fury if an enemy approached. How she rushed forward with open beak, outspread wings and angry squaking to protect her young. Then night came and with soft clucking the chicks were called to safety. Those same wings, now spread so gently caressed them all. Safe in close to her warm downy body, and together mother and chicks, settled in quiet rest.

You dear readers, may be wondering what all this has to do with the title of this article. Haven't you found if you want to press home a point that a homely picture with which we are all familiar makes a good foundation? Furthermore our blessed Lord used this simile when He mourned over Jerusalem saying, "how often

I would have gathered thy children together as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not." It is the mother instinct to protect and love. So we speak of "Mother Church," and as the mother is the centre of a home so is the church the centre of a community. And does not a mother desire the best for her children and from her children.

What does "Mother Church" give us? First — the blessed Sacraments. Through them the CHRIST comes into our lives, into our very being. It is a mystery which none can explain. But if you live among people who have the CHRIST Spirit, you will recognize it. Have you ever noticed a curio-light which seems to radiate from some faces? — Kindness and the strength of gentleness? It is the CHRIST Spirit shining through, and cannot be hid. It is a free gift for all, but comes only with use of the blessed Sacraments to those who strive to yield themselves to the will of GOD.

Now what does Mother Church expect from us? Think of it quite simply. What does any mother expect from her sons and daughters? Surely a love which embraces loyalty, obedience, unselfishness. What son worthy of the name would see his mother uncared for, neglected? So shame to us in the little building in our community called GOD'S House show our unfaithfulness. It should be as beautiful as it lies in our power to make it, and thronged with worshippers. No good criticizing others, we must prove ourselves worthy of the trust committed to us — worthy sons worthy daughters of a worthy Mother!

There are so many ways in which to show our gratitude for GOD'S gifts. A sympathetic visit to those who have had to part for a time from a loved one; clean sport in hockey as thanks for strong bodies; a friendly "good morning" for kindly neighbors; good sanitation where numbers live together; flowers for your garden for the sick and old and lonely; a cheery laugh for a wholesome joke; joyous singing as thanks for all the interests of nature our homes and our little children; the hundred and one little acts of thoughtfulness which mean so much in everyday life. And say what you will, are they not the fruits of the Spirit of CHRIST as taught us by "Mother Church"?

In this day and generation there is a continual outcry about finances. This outcry is wrong. Finance play a secondary and very easy part. We all agree that the real "I" the "Ego" lives within our bodies, may more that our bodies are temples of the Holy Ghost, for did not God form man, and breathe into his nostrils, the breath of life and man became a living soul? Now if GOD gives us our bodies while here on earth and endows us with brains to care for our bodies, surely it is only fair to pay our rental by returning to Him one tenth of our earnings. That is how we share these views and put them into practice, then over and above justice comes generosity and both are teaching of Mother Church. From the experience of over half a century the writer knows that those who share these views and put them into practice are the happier for so doing. And happy persons are a decided asset in any community. So in that "peace which passeth understanding" we rest, secure within the arms of "Mother Church."

ELECTION CAMPAIGNS

During the next few weeks candidates from all parties representing the various political thoughts will be holding meetings in Strathmore. These meetings will be reported as fully as our space permits. These articles and advertisements must be signed by the candidate or by some one authorized by him.

We reserve for our Editorial column the right to make the comments that arise out of the addresses given at these meetings. Letters to the editor on the questions of the day will be welcomed, as ever, by this paper. These letters, however, must not exceed 200 words in length. Moreover, such letters containing only party propaganda or acrimonious attacks on personalities or other parties will be returned to the writers unpublised. All letters must be signed. Every effort will be made to see that all political groups receive fair treatment in the handling of these letters. One thing only, though,—this column will not be thrown open indiscriminately for settling private differences or for pure propaganda purposes.

INFORMATION PLEASE—

Presentation of the medal award for outstanding skill in program production to J. M. Mathes, Inc., advertising agency, and to Canada Dry Ginger Ale Inc., for "Information Please" was a feature of the Annual Advertising Awards for 1939 announced February 15th at the Annual Advertising Awards dinner, Waldorf-Astoria, New York City.

The distinguished jury of awards for 1939—under the chairmanship of William A. Hart, of E. I. duPont de Nemours & Company—singled out "Information Please" as the outstanding radio program on the air.

At first considered far above average in "high brow" content and appeal Information Please, demonstrates that a program can be mentally stimulating and popular in its first year the show drew some 75,000 letters.

The Annual Advertising Awards were originally founded by Edward Bok to encourage more and stimulate improvement in advertising. It is said that Bok approached Elmer Sedgwick of Atlantic Monthly and asked him to advise in working out a new series of literary awards. Sedgwick pointed out that there were already quite a few literary awards but that advertising a comparatively new creative field, had no similar recognition.

The Harvard Advertising Awards were the result and started functioning in 1934. They tapped in 1939, following the death of their founder, the magazine Advertising and Selling, under the guidance of Fred C. Kenall, editor, recognized the need of continuing these awards and revived them in 1935.

This program is presented every Wednesday at 8 to 8:30 p.m. over CFAC.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Harry G. Scher, who passed away, February 20th, 1938.

"You could not say goodbye to us.

You could not clasp our hand,

But God took you, the one we loved

To His realm so grand.

Sleep on, Dear Dad, thy work is over,

Thy willing hands will still go on.

We have lost but heaven has gained.

One of the best the world contained.

Lovingly remembered by his Wife and Family.

IN MEMORIAM

KNIGHT—In loving memory of a

dear husband and father, John Knight of Strathmore, who died Feb. 22, 1938.

"Two years have passed, how long it seems,

But in our hearts his face still beams,

We who loved him dearly, know

How much we lost two years ago.

We think of him in silence,

We oft repeat his name;

What would we give to clasp his hand,

And hear his voice again.

Ever remembered by his wife and family.
